HEALTHY SERVING IDEAS

Add cucumbers & mint to your water to make a flavorful, healthy drink.

For quick pickles, pour 1/2 cup of white vinegar over 1-2 sliced cucumbers in a mason jar and add water to just cover slices. Add salt, pepper and dill and refrigerate for at least 1 hour.

Wrap chopped cucumbers, tomatoes, red onion, and feta in a whole wheat tortilla for a Greek-inspired healthy lunch.

SHOPPER’S TIPS

Choose firm, dark green cucumbers that are heavy for their size.

Keep them refrigerated and store in a plastic bag or container for up to one week.

Pickling cucumbers are usually smaller, with thicker skin.

FEATURED FARM OF THE MONTH: BAKEHOUSE FARM

Bakehouse Farm lies just behind The Scottish Bakehouse, and provides fresh, local vegetables for the soups, salads, and sandwiches that are served there throughout the year. Zephyr Plume tends the fields of Bakehouse Farm and grows several varieties of cucumbers for the kitchen – pickling cucumbers, English varieties, and some that are thicker skinned. Corinto is one of her favorites, for its flavor, disease resistance, and size.
